2011 Tim Hortons Brier
London, Ontario

John Morris Leads Golden Boys into London

The first official visit for Canada's 2010 Olympic gold medal winners in men's curling will take place right here in London, March 4 at the White Oaks Mall.

After an incredible undefeated performance at the Vancouver Olympics, John Morris, Marc Kennedy and Ben Hebert will meet fans during an autograph session at 2:45 pm, followed by a media conference and Up Close and Personal interview at 4 pm, which the public is welcome to attend.

"It's so exciting to have our new Olympic champions appearing here in London on behalf of the 2011 Tim Hortons Brier," said Peter Inch, Host Committee Chair. "With the Olympics behind them, one of the most significant dates on their schedule will be March 5 - 13, 2011... when the Brier hits the ice at the John Labatt Centre. With J-Mo having lived and curled in Kitchener and Ottawa, this is very special for all Ontarians."

Team Canada skip Kevin Martin is unable to attend due to previous commitments, but will be joining the rest of the team in Halifax for special events leading up to the first rock of the 2010 Tim Hortons Brier at the Halifax Metro Centre.
